

Woodland Photographic Competition 2022

To celebrate the splendour of our woodlands the Yorkshire Agricultural Society is hosting a photographic competition to encourage people to photograph their favourite trees and woodlands in the UK. The main emphasis and focus of your photos should always be the woodlands and trees.

Up to 15 finalist photos will be selected and their photos displayed in the Woodland at the Great Yorkshire Show where visitors can vote for their favourite photographs during Tuesday 12 – Friday 15 July, after which the winners will be announced.

The overall winners’ prize will be £100 worth of Amazon vouchers with £50 for the runner up.

To enter the competition please complete the entry form below and send a 7”x5” photo by 3rd June 2022 (please also supply a high resolution jpeg file so the photograph can be enlarged for display at the show if required). Entries into previous Great Yorkshire Show woodland photo competitions cannot be submitted again for the 2022 competition.

You may submit as many entries as you like
